PRESIDENT THRILLS MIGHTY CROWD

Advocates Modernizing Declaration of Independence by Applying its Principles to Our Modern Conditions.

SPEAKS NEAR WHERE DECLARATION WAS MADE

Pays Tribute to Patriotic Americans who are Willing to Stay in Washington and Sweat Doing Their Duty.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Philadelphia, July 4.—Advocating the modernizing of the Declaration of Independence by applying its principles to the business, the politics and the foreign policies of America, President Wilson today thrilled a huge crowd assembled in Independence square within a few feet of where the original declaration was signed.

The president touched on Mexico, the Panama tolls, recent controversies, his anti-trust program, business conditions and his ideas of modern patriotism.

Founding his feet on the table on which the Declaration of Independence was signed, he declared Americans today must manage their affairs in a way to do honor to the founders of the nation.

"There are men in Washington today," he declared, "whose patriotism is not shown but who accomplish great patriotic things. They are staying in hot Washington, doing their duty, keeping a quorum in each house of congress to do business and I am mighty glad to stay there and stick by them," he added.

Touching on business conditions of the country, President Wilson said a great many allegations of facts were being made, but that a great many of these facts don't tally with each other.

"Are these men trying to serve their country or something smaller than their country?" he asked. "If they love America and there is anything wrong it is their business to put their hands to the task and set it right."

Eighty-five per cent of the Mexican people, the president said, in touching on Mexico, never have a right to have a "look-in" on their government or how the other fifteen per cent were running it. "I know the American people have a heart that beats for them just as it beats for other millions," President Wilson continued. "I hear a great deal about the property loss in Mexico and I regret that with all my heart, but back of it all is a struggling people. Let us not forget that struggle in watching what is going on in front."

"I would be ashamed of the flag if we did anything outside this country which we would not do in it," the president declared.

Speaking on Panama tolls, the president said the treaty with England might be a mistake, but its meaning cannot be mistaken, and he believed in keeping the nation's obligations. He believed in keeping the name of the United States unquestioned and unassailed.

Before the president got his speech well under way the crowd surged forward in such confusion that a panic was threatened. Two companies of marines and sailors stood before the speaker's stand and Mr. Wilson was forced to stop several times but finally got the crowd under control.

While the president was waiting to speak Mrs. Smith, mother of one of the first sailors killed at Vera Cruz, greeted him. Mr. Wilson told her she should be proud of her son and shook her warmly by the hand.

As the train bearing the presidential party left on the return trip to Washington a large crowd gathered at the station clapped and cheered, while the president stood on the observation platform and bowed and smiled.

Old Christ church, which edifice is closely associated in the history of American freedom with Independence hall, sounded today the historic eight bells that rang with the Liberty bell on July 4, 1776. Eight men manned the ropes attached to the bells in the church tower.

On July 4, 1776, there was a meeting in Old Christ church at almost the same hour of the meeting in Independence hall, a few blocks away, where the country's fathers were drafting the Declaration of Independence. The meeting in Christ church was called to discuss an amendment to the prayer book. Word of the signing of the declaration, sounded forth by the liberty bell, was echoed by the chimes in the church tower and then the assembly in the church passed a resolution amending the prayers for the king of England, so that the people might pray for the officials of the new republic.

The old prayer book, with the alterations in the handwriting of Bishop White was used at the commemoration service today. Three-fourths of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were churchmen, and many of them attended Christ church during the days they were meeting. The first city troop of Philadelphia, which today acted as escort for President Wilson, was intimately connected with the revolutionary history. It was organized in 1774 and is the oldest organization in the United States that has maintained a continuous active military existence and taken part in every way in which volunteer cavalry have served.

GENERAL EVANS TO GET PRIVATE REPRIMAND

President will Administer Rebuke to Army Officer Who Criticized Foreign Policy of Administration.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Philadelphia, July 4.—Brigadier General H. K. Evans, former commander of the department of the east will be privately reprimanded by the president in consequence of a speech at a recent banquet in New York in which General Evans is said to have made indiscreet references to the foreign policy of the United States.

General Evans sent Secretary Garrison a statement on his speech in which he said he had been misquoted and gave his own version of his remarks. While this version is said to have partly satisfied the president it is said he decided a reprimand should be given General Evans.

Later he will confer with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

His conference with the constitutionalists had not been arranged, but probably will be held early next week. While General Carranza is canvassing his generals on the proposal to send delegates to treat with emissaries of Huerta, Mr. Naon will do what may be possible to help along a conference for a settlement of Mexico's difficulties by Mexicans.

Minister Suarez of Chile and Ambassador DaGama of Brazil will not return to Washington until later. Agents of the constitutionalists said they had received no further messages from General Carranza today.

Crimson, in Driving Finish Takes Grand Challenge Cup While Italian Carries Home the Diamond Sculls.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] London, July 4.—W. M. Clear, Jr., and Homer Baker carried the colors of the New York Athletic club to victory today in the high jump and the half-mile flat race, respectively, at Stamford Bridge and wrestled the championship titles from their British holders.

W. F. Potter of Yale university also made a splendid bid for the 129-yard hurdle title. He won his heat easily, but in the final lost to the British holder, C. H. Gray, by only two feet.

Clear, with a magnificent effort on his last try, took the high jump title from H. H. Baker of Liverpool. Both cleared 6 feet 2 inches. Then three Englishmen failed three at a try 2 1/2 inches. The American failed twice at that height before he successfully negotiated and won the title.

W. R. Applebark, of the Polytechnic Harriers, in addition to winning the title for the 100 yards flat, but was beaten by V. H. D'Arcy, Polytechnic Harriers in 10 seconds flat.

J. C. Patterson of Pennsylvania university ran in one of the preliminary heats of the 100 yards flat, but was beaten by V. H. D'Arcy, Polytechnic Harriers in 10 seconds flat.

HARVARD SECOND EIGHT WINS BRILLIANT RACE

Hentley-on-Thames, July 4.—The two leading trophies contested for at the Henley regatta were won by foreigners today, the grand challenge cup falling into the hands of the Harvard second eight and the diamond sculls being taken to Italy by Giuseppe Singalla.

The weather was perfect when the Union Boat club of Boston and the Harvard crew went to the starting line. Henley was off in the lead and was half a length in front to the quarter mile. Harvard spurred and the shells were even at the half.

Harvard then drew away and led by a third of a length at three quarters of a mile. At the mile post Harvard had increased their advantage to three quarters of a length and from there to the finish line widened the distance to a length and a quarter.

In the final of the diamond sculls, C. E. Stuart of Cambridge led Singalla all the way to within 200 yards of the finishing line, where he gave up, the pace being too strong for him.

England was slightly compensated for the loss of the grand challenge cup by the victory of Leander over the Mayence Rowing club of Germany in the Steward's challenge cup and by the successful defense of the Thames challenge cup by Caius college, Cambridge, against the attack of the Royal Nautical club of Ghent, Belgium.

FIFTY SECOND ANNUAL CONVENTION OPENS

Problems of Superintendency Engage Attention of Thousands of Teachers in First Day's Session.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] St. Paul, Minn., July 4.—Discussion of problems confronting the school superintendent and of conditions prevalent in rural school districts marked the opening session today of the fifty-second annual convention of the National Education association.

Speaking before the National Council of Education, Lloyd E. Wolfe, of San Antonio, Texas, advocated uniform selection and promotion of teachers on merit and urged national co-operation "for the solution of problems that go to the very foundation of popular education and national prosperity."

The appointment of a committee composed of representative educators to investigate and study the question of school superintendency was advocated and given careful consideration at today's session of the national council of education. Such a committee, it was pointed out, could work out a plan for making uniform and more effective the work of superintendents in state, city and county.

O. M. Plummer, of Portland, Oregon, father of the eugenics movement, arrived today and will address the meeting Tuesday. "I am not a scientist, but I conceived the idea of better babies after watching the judging of livestock for many seasons," said Mr. Plummer, who is secretary and treasurer of the Union Stockyards of Portland, and manager of the Pacific Livestock association.

SEEK REVOLVER WITH WHICH MR. BAILEY WAS SENT TO HER DEATH

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Freeport, N. Y., July 4.—Representatives of the district attorney's office and county detectives today renewed their search for the revolver with which Mrs. Louis Bailey was murdered while consulting Dr. Edwin Carman in his office here Tuesday night. They began to interview every person seen in the neighborhood of the Carman residence directed by after the murder in the hope that they might chance on some one who had picked up the weapon from the shrubbery and carried it away. The coroner's inquest will be resumed Monday.

A police guard was maintained at the Carman home during the night and today. The guards were instructed to prevent any person from entering the grounds, but not to prevent the occupants of the house from leaving should they care to do so. District Attorney Smith was assured that no member of the household will attempt to cross the boundary of Nassau county until the investigation of the murder has been completed.

NAVY WHIPS THE ARMY IN CONTEST TODAY AT VERA CRUZ

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Vera Cruz, July 4.—The United States navy vanquished the army and marine corps today in a long program of athletic sports which marked their celebration of the Fourth of July on Mexican soil. Hundreds of natives witnessed the events. At noon the total number of points made by the navy in the athletic events was greater than that of the army and marine corps combined, and the results of the events to be decided could not bring about any change in their positions.

During the Roman race of the cavalry a native woman standing in front of the galloping teams after they had crossed the finishing line became panic-stricken and was unable to move as the horses approached her. The driver of the first team, unable to stop his horses, forced them apart and the animals passed on each side of the woman at full gallop with the rider straddling. The woman was untouched and thousands of soldiers and sailors looking on at the daring feat cheered the rider.

Promptly at noon cannon from the ships and shore thundered a national salute of twenty-one guns, to which the foreign warships in the harbor replied, gun for gun.

THREE KILLED IN BOMB OUTRAGE IN NEW YORK

Leader of Industrial Workers of World One of Victims of Mysterious Explosion in Flat House.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] New York, July 4.—A bomb of terrific power exploded either on the roof or on one of the upper floors of a six-story flat house in Harlem today, wrecking a third of the building and killed at least three persons and injured many others.

One of the dead was Arthur Caron, a machinist, and a leader of the Industrial Workers of the World. The two other dead were women.

The explosion was at first attributed to dynamite in a nearby subway excavation and in the excitement attendant on the collapse of the building estimates of the dead ran as high as fifty. Inspector Egan of the police bureau of combustibles said the bomb was powerful enough to have wrecked the entire neighborhood if properly placed.

Caron's body was identified by means of cards in his pocket. He lived in the building where the explosion occurred. Caron has been prominently identified with the I. W. W. and was arrested during one of the Union Square demonstrations. The police began looking up his record today on the theory that it might aid in clearing up the explosion.

Most Money Is Earned by "Taking the Trouble" to Earn It

"I might save a dollar, now and then, by reading the ads—but it would take a lot of time and trouble." Some housewives take that view. It's not a sound view. It's not "good business." For if it is possible to "save a dollar now and then" by watching the "ads," it is possible to save SOMETHING on a majority of the purchases made for the home. And this systematic saving, in the run of the year's expenditures, will count heavily, and be greatly worth while.

For the reading and study of the "ads" in the Herald is simply the adopting of "business methods" in managing the home. And the home that is managed in a business way is usually a FINANCIAL SUCCESS. And, in the home where there is usually a money-surplus, instead of deficit, content, hope and aspiration are apt to thrive.

The Herald brings to you the "bargain news" every day. It shows you HOW, WHERE and WHEN money may be saved in making your usual purchases. If to read the "ads" seems like "a trouble," then the whole scheme of living is a trouble—rather than an OPPORTUNITY.

WILLIAMS' CAREER AS DIPLOMAT ENDED

President Abruptly Separates Minister to Greece From His Job Without Waiting to Receive Resignation

HAS CONVULSED ALL EUROPE WITH ANTICS

State Department Utterly at Loss to Explain Reason for Minister's Insistent Butting in on Albania.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Philadelphia, July 4.—President Wilson has requested the resignation of George Fred Williams, American minister to Greece and Montenegro, as a result of Mr. Williams' public statements regarding the situation in Albania. This became known following the president's arrival here today. Mr. Williams' own representation of his statements were taken up at the cabinet meeting yesterday and afterward Mr. Wilson decided their effect was such that it would be improper for Mr. Williams to longer represent the United States in the Balkans.

It has been understood that Mr. Williams of his own accord has forwarded his resignation but so far as could be learned here it has not been received by the president.

WILLIAMS' TERM HAS BEEN HIGHLY BUT EXCITING. Washington, July 4.—The term of George Fred Williams as minister to Greece and Montenegro has been brief but has attracted much attention.

A few weeks ago President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and other officials were amazed by a published report that Mr. Williams had circulated the powers offering his services as a mediator in the Albanian crisis. State department officials then said the minister had no authority to do so, but had been given permission to visit Epirus and make a report on conditions. Secretary Bryan called for a report on the incident and Mr. Williams replied he was sending one by mail. While there is no confirmation here, it is believed in official circles that the minister's resignation is accompanying that report.

The concern of administration officials was increased recently by publication of a further attack on the Albanian situation, the part of the European powers and the rule of Prince William attributed to the minister. So far as is known, the powers have made no representations to Washington over the minister's activities, but officials would not have been surprised if they had.

MINISTER'S OUTRAGES LAUGHED AT ALL EUROPE. London, July 4.—The English newspapers have printed the announcement of George Fred Williams, American minister to Greece and Montenegro, on the subject of Albania without comment except in their headlines. There they have such labels as "Amazing Action by an American Minister," and "American Minister's Strange Statements." The Times yesterday headed Mr. Williams' second statement with the line, "American Minister's Further Indiscretions."

In the British foreign office and the London diplomatic set the affair has caused great amusement.
